

Application for Special Examination Arrangements ATAR course examinations 2019

Candidates who have a permanent or temporary disability, illness and/or specific learning disability that could disadvantage them in demonstrating their knowledge, skills and understandings in standard assessments may have their school apply to the School Curriculum and Standards Authority to sit ATAR course examinations under special arrangements. Applications can be made for the written and/or practical examinations. Application forms must be completed by the school, with supporting information supplied by external consultants where relevant. The Authority will notify the school of the decision through the Authority's student record system (SIRS). The case coordinator will need access to SIRS. It is the school's responsibility to convey this information to the student.

The granting of special examination arrangements is not automatic, but takes into account medical and/or psychometric evidence plus supporting school-based information related to the candidate's ability to access the examination. The role of special examination arrangements is to provide reasonable access to an examination. Schools should ensure that they have placed on record all current medical/psychological documents that relate to their decision to trial special arrangements for the student. Each application is considered individually, with decisions based on the nature of each examination to be sat by the candidate.

There are five sections:

- Section A Student details – to be completed by the student
- Section B Provisions requested – to be completed by the school and the student
- Section C School case coordination – to be completed by the school and the student
- Section D Supporting information – relevant sections to be completed by the school, psychologist, occupational therapist
- Section E Medical evidence – to be completed by a medical practitioner/registered health professional (if applicable)
- Section F Student's declaration and principal's declaration – to be completed by the school and student
- Section G General information about special examination arrangements (Insert) – to be kept by the school

The closing date for receipt of applications is 4 April 2019. (Late applications for special format practical examinations may be received until 31 July 2019.) Envelopes should be marked Confidential – Attention Carolyn Hackett. Schools should ensure that this completed application form and all supporting documentation reaches School Curriculum and Standards Authority, PO Box 816, Cannington WA 6987 by the due date. After the end of Term 2, only emergency applications can be considered, such as for candidates who have an accident just prior to the examinations. Special examination arrangements will be made if time permits. Before completing this form, please refer to relevant documents on the Authority website (see page 11 for web address).

Section B – Provisions requested Refer to Section G before completion (to be completed only by the school in consultation with the student)

Provisions for written examinations

Indicate with a tick (✓) the provisions requested for written examinations. All requests must be supported by evidence provided with this application and relate to the correct category of disability. Where a provision is needed for only some examinations, please specify. Applications requesting modifications to the written examination question paper or written stimulus materials for the practical examination must also complete page 9.

Learning disability provisions – for these provisions, pages 3 to 7 must be completed

Only for students with diagnosed learning disorders in reading (incl dyslexia), written expression or mathematics (dyscalculia)

- extra working time – specify exams _____
- scribe (includes extra time to compensate for the dictation process) – specify exams _____
- personal computer – specify exams _____
- recorded examination (only for a severe reading disability) – specify exams _____
- C-Pen exam reader scanning pen – specify exams _____

Medical provisions – for these provisions, relevant sections of pages 3 to 10 must be completed

Includes students with ADD/ADHD, illness, psychological (including autism), language disorder, physical disability or fine motor disabilities (including DCD, motor dysgraphia)

- rest breaks (for fatigue, pain, anxiety/attention related conditions, toilet breaks or medical treatment)
- extra working time – specify exams _____
- scribe (includes extra time for dictation) – specify exams _____
- personal computer – specify exams _____
- diabetic provisions – bite-size food/drink
- diabetic provisions – manual blood testing (includes up to an extra 5 minutes non-working time to check blood sugar)
- diabetic provisions – continuous glucose monitoring (CGM) – specify type _____
- medication
- special desk/slope board
- special chair/footrest
- cushion/pillow
- out-of-order seating – please tick one (✓): front row back row near door near window other (specify)

Student’s comments (Student to complete this section at school)

Describe in your own words how your disability affects you in examinations and timed assessments, and how the special examination arrangements you are requesting will assist you in the ATAR course examinations. Restrict comment to this space.

School provisions (Case coordinator to complete this section)

Is the student currently using special examination provisions in tests or examinations? YES/NO

If so, what are they and for which courses are they used?

How do these provisions assist the student? If used for multiple courses, ensure you describe the benefit in each course. N.B. This application must establish the need for special provisions in each course applied for.

Section C – School case coordination cont. – intervention strategies (to be completed by the school)

Targeted intervention history (Case coordinator to complete this section)

Please summarise the remediation / intervention strategies used to address the problems encountered by the student following diagnosis. Detail the impact of the remediation provided and specify which accommodation strategies have proven successful for the student. You must demonstrate at least six months targeted intervention (remediation).

Date of diagnosis: _____ Assessed by: _____

Diagnosis:

Intervention Please detail remediation and accommodation strategies adopted by the school or others as a result of the diagnosis. For mental illnesses, this includes counselling:

Remediation:Accommodations:

Outcomes achieved Please detail the improvements achieved as a result of the strategies (both remediation and accommodations) adopted in response to the diagnosis. Ensure you cover all courses included in this application:

Any other support the school currently offers:

(If no previous assistance has been provided, please indicate why this is so, e.g. new student, recent diagnosis, difficulties have not been raised, student has refused assistance etc.)

Section D – Supporting information – specific learning disorders

(to be completed by a registered educational psychologist or transcribed by the case coordinator)

Psychometric test results

This section is compulsory for all students applying under learning disorder provisions. All sections on this page must be completed. Only assessments conducted since 1 December 2016 will be considered. Information may be transcribed from the report if an external psychologist has been used. Signature below is to be the person completing the page.

Please write details below or use official stamp.

Psychologist's name: _____

For students with specific learning disorders, the assessment tools used must be identified, and the report should include the results (including a statement of diagnosis); an analysis of these results; and an indication of the level of functional impact the student experiences in reading and written expression in the classroom and timed assessments. The results must be summarised below.

Please provide a copy of the psychologist's report.

1. Academic Skills

Provide results of standardised assessments conducted in reading, spelling and written expression. Please highlight results of significance (specifically those results that suggest a severe functional impact) and indicate whether tests were timed or un-timed. Passage reading and passage writing measures are important.

Section D – Supporting information – specific learning disabilities, fine motor or physical disabilities, language disorder, medical conditions or any other disabilities impacting on essay writing efficiency
(to be completed by the school)

All students requesting extra working time, a scribe, or a personal computer on the basis of a learning disorder, a fine motor or physical disability, a language disorder or severe health or other impairment are to complete two essays under examination conditions. In addition, students applying for a personal computer are to complete one 30-minute typed essay and students applying for the use of a scribe are to complete one 35-minute scribed essay. All essays must provide an accurate word count (not an estimate.)

Essay one is handwritten under controlled conditions, using the topic provided by the Authority. Strictly five minutes reading time and 35 minutes writing time are to be provided. The candidate is to change ink colour after working for 30 minutes. No other special arrangements are to be used. Please complete the blue cover sheet and attach to the completed essay.

Essay two is a photocopy of one essay (usually handwritten) from an assessment that the student has completed in Year 12 as a class test or examination. The genre chosen must be in essay format and be comparable to an extended response required in an examination. Special arrangements may be used. The essay must be marked with comments by the teacher and grading indicated. Essay details (including topic, time taken, number of words written, date, special arrangements used) are to be recorded on the coloured cover sheet. Short answer tasks or those requiring lengthy pre-reading during the allocated working time are not suitable. Please complete the pink cover sheet and attach to the marked essay. Do not submit a full examination or an essay where the topic is given in advance.

A typed or scribed essay is required (in addition to the handwritten essays) if a candidate is applying for the use of a computer or scribe. The topic will be provided by the Authority and strictly five minutes reading time and 30 minutes typing time are to be allowed (for a scribed essay 35 minutes scribing time is allowed). The computer is to have spelling and grammar checks disabled. No other special arrangements (e.g. extra time) are to be used. Please complete the green cover sheet and attach to the completed essay.

Prior to the student completing this evidence, schools must request the confidential essay topics from the examination logistics section of the Authority. Essays must be completed at school under examination conditions. The student is not to receive any assistance or prompting and is not to be given the topics in advance. The supervising teacher must remain with the student for the duration of the essay to observe the student's performance. Observations must be recorded in the relevant section of the essay cover sheet.

If coloured paper is being requested, all essays must be completed on paper of that same colour.

To obtain essay topics, phone 9273 6307, specifying whether you are applying for your student to be considered for extra working time or a computer/scribe. Please allow ten days for delivery of the topics.

Ensure both written essays and the typed/scribed essay (where relevant) are submitted with this application form and comply with the above instructions. Unsuitable essays or those with partially completed cover sheets may be returned or replacements requested.

Insert all essays at this page.

Section G – General information about special examination arrangements in 2019 (Please keep)

Special examination arrangements may be considered for candidates identified as having a permanent or temporary disability. The following is intended as a guide to schools in their case management of these students. These guidelines acknowledge that, without special examination arrangements, a student with an existing physical, medical, sensory, neurological or psychological condition may not be able to access an examination to a reasonable level to demonstrate his/her knowledge, understanding and skills. Special arrangements are not provided to maximise a candidate's performance. School Curriculum and Standards Authority (the Authority) does not automatically adopt a medical/psychological provider's advice or replicate the special arrangements that the school may have put in place for school-based assessment. When approving special provisions, the Authority will consider the demonstrated functional impact of the disability in the particular examinations being sat. The onus is on the school to establish the need for special arrangements in each of the examinations being requested.

Applications are treated on an individual basis and it is intended that no candidate will be advantaged over another candidate in the examinations except through having more knowledge, understanding, skill and ability relating to the course being examined.

Before implementing any special provisions, please refer to further information regarding special examination arrangements on the Authority website <https://senior-secondary.scsa.wa.edu.au/assessment/examinations/special-provisions>. All other enquiries regarding special examination arrangements can be directed to the Principal Consultant – Special Provisions on 9273 6316. All communication with the Authority regarding an application will be through the school's nominated case coordinator.

Assistance for medical conditions

An application for special examination arrangements based on severe health impairment or significant physical disability needs to be substantiated with current evidence from an independent professional as detailed below. Evidence submitted will not be returned. The severity of the impairment and its demonstrated functional impact in the examination situation will be considered when determining a suitable level of provision. The listed possible provisions are a guide only, and support should be trialled commencing at the lowest level.

| Possible difficulty/impairment in examination | | Possible provisions available | Minimum documentation* |
|--|--|--|--|
| ADD/ADHD | Concentration, organisation and planning difficulties | Rest breaks, permission to take medication | Specialist medical report School case management comments |
| Autism spectrum disorder | Concentration difficulties, anxiety preventing performance in a group situation (Must demonstrate current functional impact) | Specified seating, rest breaks, extra working time (if justified), separate supervision, permission to move | Specialist medical report Learning disorder evidence (if applicable) School case management comments * |
| Back injury | Discomfort/pain, difficulty with prolonged sitting | Special chair, cushion, seating at back, permission to move, permission to take medication, rest breaks | Current medical report School case management comments |
| Chronic fatigue syndrome | Tiredness/inability to concentrate due to illness (including post-viral syndrome, glandular fever) | Rest breaks, permission to take medication, food/drink | Current medical report School case management comments |
| Diabetes | Need to maintain blood sugar levels | Food/drink, glucose monitoring, permission to take medication, rest breaks, extra time at discretion | Current medical report School case management comments |
| Hand/arm injury | Difficulty writing, pain, excessive fatigue with writing | Rest breaks, extra working time, scribe, computer | Current medical and/or OT or Physiotherapy report School case management comments * |
| Head injury – severe (sustained within the last two years) | Mental processing difficulty | Rest breaks, extra working time, permission to take medication | Specialist medical report School case management comments * |
| Head injury – severe (sustained more than two years ago) | Covered by learning disorder arrangements | | |
| Obsessive-compulsive disorder/severe depression | Difficulty with cognition/concentration | Rest breaks, extra working time | Specialist medical report School case management * |
| Pregnancy | In hospital for birth, difficulty with prolonged sitting | Toilet breaks, food/drink, special chair, permission to move, rest/feeding breaks, home/hospital supervision | Current medical report giving expected date of delivery |
| Psychological/clinical anxiety | Concentration difficulty, anxiety preventing performance in a group situation | Rest breaks, specified seating near window/door, permission to take medication, separate supervision | Specialist medical report School case management comments |
| Significant physical disability | Paraplegia, Muscular Dystrophy, Cerebral Palsy etc. | Special desk/chair, rest breaks, extra working time, separate supervision, toilet breaks, scribe/computer, special format papers | Specialist medical report OT report School case management comments * |
| Long-term injury or illness existing at start of Term 3  | Preventing participation in a standard practical exam | Special format practical examination | Current medical report |

*If the application is for extra working time, a scribe or a computer, students will be required to submit essays as required for a learning disability (see page 7)

 Note: These candidates do not have access to sickness/misadventure approval (see Year 12 Information Handbooks and 11to12 Circular for details).

Assistance for specific learning disabilities

For the purpose of granting special examination arrangements, the following definition of learning disability is used.

Students with a learning disability will have reading, written expression or mathematics skills significantly below expectation in relation to their present year level. Evidence of a processing impairment, frequently phonological in nature, will be present. Learning disabilities are presumed to be intrinsic to the individual and long term, with the student failing to respond as expected to evidence-based targeted intervention. A psychologist has determined that these difficulties are not considered to be the direct result of intellectual disability, physical disability, sensory impairment, or a primary emotional difficulty. Neither do they appear to derive directly from inadequate environmental influences, or from the lack of an appropriate educational experience.

Candidates with a specific learning disability are required to provide the results and analysis of standardised assessments conducted by a registered psychologist. Psychologists should make a professional judgement on the tools to be used to assist in the diagnosis and assessment of a student's learning disability. The following, however, are the assessments recommended:

- Cognitive ability – WISC V, WJ III or WAIS IV
- Phonological processing – CTOPP
- Standardised academic achievement assessments in reading and/or writing (with Australian norms)
- Note: other tools may also be appropriate for analysing learning disabilities. Results must be fully explained.

If a student is applying on the basis of a reading disability, the Progressive Achievement Test in Reading (PAT-R) Comprehension 4th edition (ACER Press, 2008) must be administered by the school in the year of application. Please refer to the website for additional information to assist in the preparation of applications for students with learning disorders.

Assistance for vision impairment

Candidates with severe vision impairment may be granted a supervisor who can assist with the conduct of the examination. An oral reading of sections of the paper may also be granted to students who are severely vision impaired. Extra reading time, working time and/or rest breaks and the use of magnification aids are arrangements that may be granted to candidates with vision impairment, depending on the severity and demonstrated impact of the impairment in the examination situation. Advice is sought from the School of Special Educational Needs – Sensory.

Assistance for hearing loss

Candidates with severe hearing loss may be granted a supervisor who can answer questions relating to organisational matters or assist with vocabulary (oral/sign interpreter) during reading time. Oral instructions can be provided in writing. Other special examination arrangements for candidates with hearing loss may be granted after consideration of the severity and demonstrated impact of the hearing loss in the examination. Advice is sought from the School of Special Educational Needs – Sensory.

Details of arrangements provided

1. Extra reading time is usually provided only for candidates who have a severe vision impairment or hearing loss. The amount of extra time given will depend on the degree of impairment and the nature of the course, to a maximum of ten minutes.
2. Rest breaks (non-working time) may be provided for candidates who are unable to sustain a sitting position or work uninterrupted for long periods. This could allow candidates to receive medical treatment, rest, stretch injured backs, re-focus on the examination and so on. Rest time is calculated at the rate of 5 minutes per half hour of examination time up to a maximum of 25 minutes and can be taken at the candidate's discretion, usually in blocks of no more than 10 minutes. Candidates who are granted rest breaks will sit their examinations at a venue designated by the Authority.
3. Extra working time may be granted for a candidate to complete the examination. In general, a maximum of 30 minutes for a three hour examination (or the pro rata equivalent for shorter examinations) is granted except for candidates with severe vision impairment or severe multiple physical disabilities who may receive a further allowance of working time. Candidates who are granted extra time will sit their examinations at a venue designated by the Authority.
4. Paper modification: papers may be enlarged, translated into Braille or varied in colour for candidates with vision impairment. Other adjustments to the paper layout may be made to accommodate the impact of significant physical/fine motor disabilities.
5. Scribes may be appointed in cases of severe writing disability or physical disability. Where a scribe is provided, extra working time is also allowed to compensate for the dictation process. The role of the scribe is to record, in handwriting, the verbal responses as dictated by the candidate.
6. Computers: candidates with a severe permanent disability such as muscular dystrophy, and who have been using a computer as part of their mode of assessment over several years, may be granted the use of a computer. Spelling and grammar checks are not allowed. Extra working time is not usually allowed. Poor handwriting is not considered a disability that necessitates a computer unless it results from a diagnosed disabling condition. A computer is not suited to examinations requiring equations or calculations. Braille-using students may be granted a Braille computer and/or a computer with voice output in some courses. Candidates who are granted use of a computer will sit their examinations at a venue designated by the Authority.
7. Specialised supervision may be provided for a candidate who needs to sit in a separate room, at home or in hospital due to illness, injury or pregnancy.
8. Out-of-order seating may be approved for candidates who, for medical reasons, may need to leave the room frequently, sit near a window, at the front or rear of the room. This is rarely needed at designated special examination centres.
9. Food/drink: only food or additional drinks needed because of a medical condition may be taken into an examination room. This food or drink must be in a clear wrapping or container.
10. Medication may be approved for the ongoing treatment for medical conditions such as diabetes or ADD/ADHD.
11. Specialised equipment such as ergonomic furniture or a cushion may be approved for candidates with special needs. All variations to standard examination equipment or furniture must be applied for. It is the candidate's responsibility to provide this equipment.
12. Recorded examinations may be granted for candidates with a severe reading disability or vision impairment. These are in MP3 format on compact disk. The candidate will operate the player. Candidates who are granted recorded examinations will sit their examinations at a venue designated by the Authority. Use of a C-Pen Exam Reader may also be granted for candidates needing reading support.
13. Supervisor's instructions in writing can be provided for candidates with hearing loss.

N.B. No allowance or special examination arrangement is made for spelling difficulties.
